

Approaches to Psychology Practice

What type of psychologist would. . .

BI. BIOLOGICAL

P. PSYCHOANALYTIC

BE. BEHAVIORAL

S. SOCIOCULTURAL

E. EVOLUTIONARY

H. HUMANISTIC

C. COGNITIVE

- ___ 1. study brain activity to determine why a person is depressed
- ___ 2. say that Frank refuses to use profanity as an adult because he was punished for it in the past
- ___ 3. say that much of what shapes our personality takes place in our thoughts, feelings, wishes, and drives that operate below our level of conscious awareness
- ___ 4. ask, How does alcohol affect the brain?
- ___ 5. ask, How does alcoholism differ from one culture to another?
- ___ 6. ask, What thoughts lead up to episodes of heavy drinking?
- ___ 7. say each of us is like a perfect seed, if we get the right amount of water, nutrients, and sunlight from the environment, we will become the perfect flower.
- ___ 8. say that humans are thinking creatures able to compare the past with the present and make judgments.
- ___ 9. look at racial prejudice and fairness of IQ testing for different groups.
- ___ 10. say that although a persons personal growth has been slowed, it can recover with guidance.
- ___ 11. Believe that most women prefer tall and physically strong partners
- ___ 12. ask, Is alcoholism learned.
- ___ 13. say that people act differently because of the different groups they are associated with.
- ___ 14. ask, Is heavy drinking an indication of some deeper problem or conflict raging in the unconscious?
- ___ 15. say that a person's memory problem is a result of a physical malfunction resulting from trouble at work.