

Personality Disorders Writing Activity

Within the next eight months to two years many of you will be moving away from home into a dorm setting or something similar. During this exciting time, you will need to adjust to living with someone in close quarters- often times someone you may not even know. Select one of the Personality / Anxiety / Mood / Schizophrenia / Somatoform / Factitious / Dissociative Disorders discussed in class and describe what life would be like if you were assigned to be roommates with that person during college. You should include the following:

- an accurate description of the characteristics of the personality disorder – 25%
- reasonable applications of the impact of those characteristics on a post-high school lifestyle – 25%
- an explanation of the advantages and disadvantages of living with such a person – 25%
- how you would adjust to living with this individual peacefully – 15%
- paper should be AT LEAST ONE Page typed, double spaced, twelve Times New Roman Font, with correct grammar (only should have your name, date, class period in the top left corner single spaced) – 10%

Personality Disorders Writing Activity

Within the next eight months to two years many of you will be moving away from home into a dorm setting or something similar. During this exciting time, you will need to adjust to living with someone in close quarters- often times someone you may not even know. Select one of the Personality / Anxiety / Mood / Schizophrenia / Somatoform / Factitious / Dissociative Disorders discussed in class and describe what life would be like if you were assigned to be roommates with that person during college. You should include the following:

- an accurate description of the characteristics of the personality disorder – 25%
- reasonable applications of the impact of those characteristics on a post-high school lifestyle – 25%
- an explanation of the advantages and disadvantages of living with such a person – 25%
- how you would adjust to living with this individual peacefully – 15%
- paper should be AT LEAST ONE Page typed, double spaced, twelve Times New Roman Font, with correct grammar (only should have your name, date, class period in the top left corner single spaced) – 10%

Personality Disorders Writing Activity

Within the next eight months to two years many of you will be moving away from home into a dorm setting or something similar. During this exciting time, you will need to adjust to living with someone in close quarters- often times someone you may not even know. Select one of the Personality / Anxiety / Mood / Schizophrenia / Somatoform / Factitious / Dissociative Disorders discussed in class and describe what life would be like if you were assigned to be roommates with that person during college. You should include the following:

- an accurate description of the characteristics of the personality disorder – 25%
- reasonable applications of the impact of those characteristics on a post-high school lifestyle – 25%
- an explanation of the advantages and disadvantages of living with such a person – 25%
- how you would adjust to living with this individual peacefully – 15%
- paper should be AT LEAST ONE Page typed, double spaced, twelve Times New Roman Font, with correct grammar (only should have your name, date, class period in the top left corner single spaced) – 10%