

1. What is a cadastral system?
2. Describe each system and give an example of where it is found.
  - a. Rectangular survey system/township-and-range system
  - b. Metes and bounds survey
  - c. Longlot survey
  - d. Primogeniture
  - e. Fragmentation

Center B: Villages

1. Describe each type of village and give an example.
  - a. Traditional farm-village
  - b. Dispersed settlement
  - c. Nucleated settlement
  - d. Linear settlement
  - e. Round or rundling settlement
  - f. Walled villages
  - g. Grid villages

1. What do they have in common?
2. What do the different types of buildings within a village tell us?
3. Why do you think functional differentiation of buildings is the greatest in Western cultures?

1. What was the purpose of plantations?
2. How did it evolve into modern commercial agriculture?
3. How do core countries still carry on the production of cash crops by poorer countries?

1. What did Koppen say about climate and agriculture?
2. What were the major categories he used to distribute the types of climate?
3. What type of agriculture would you find on drier lands? In moister climates?

1. What do you think the farm crisis is? (no, it has nothing to do with the amount of food, but farmers)
2. In what parts of the world would you find this crisis?

1. What are environment impacts of commercial agriculture for each of the following?
  - a. Fish
  - b. Forests
  - c. Soil
  - d. Semiarid regions
  - e. Groundwater

1. What do you think aquaculture is?
2. What is a planned economy? (an example would be a commune or collective farm in China)
3. In Chinese restaurants found in the US you can decide to have rice and/or noodles with your meal. Ethnic Chinese meals do have this combination, why?

1. There are different aspects of commercial agriculture. Define each and give an example of where you would find it.
  - a. Livestock ranching
  - b. Mediterranean agriculture
  - c. Plantation agriculture
  - d. *Dairy farming
  - e. *Mixed livestock with crop rotation

1. There are different aspects of commercial agriculture. Define each and give an example of where you would find it.
  - a. Specialized fruit production
  - b. Truck farms
  - c. Suitcase farms
  - d. Grain farming (often called staple grains)