

Summary Activity

- The Constitution solved the problems of the Articles of Confederation.
- Use your notes to complete the following:
 - Decide whether you support or oppose this statement.
 - Write out your arguments (you may list them in complete sentences) supporting or opposing
 - Decide whether your stance – support or opposition – would have made you a Federalist or Anti-Federalist in 1787
 - Write a short “speech” – about a paragraph – to convince your friends that the Constitution is (or is not) the solution to the problems of the Articles of Confederation. Try to incorporate some of your specific examples.
